MR. CUMMING OPPOSES DEY

Former Delegate to House Candidate for the District Chairmanship.

One Man Fined for Using His Fist in Primary and Other Arrests to Follow.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., June 7.-8. Gordon Cumming, of Hampton, has entered the field for the Second District chairmanship against W. W. Dey. Mr. Cumming is favored by the Martin wing. The election of yesterday has complicated condithe already muddled political situation here, and the general mix-up is causing a big amount of speculation. While it is admitted Dey practically lost the Second District for storaged by falling to secure more than twenty-two of the city delegates, it is now whispered around that delegates elected as Martinites in other parts of the district may, if they have not already switched, and it is regarded as possible, if not, indeed, probable, that enough may be classed in the chamelion column to change the result. change the result. ELECT PRESIDENT.

The directors of the Citizens' Bank to-day elected M. W. Moss, president of the Virginia-Carolina Trust Company, president to succeed the late Waiter H. Doyle. This action is a physical completion of the merger of the two institutions. The National Bank of Commerce, which, through Mr. Schmelz, a director of both the Commerce and Citizens', secured control of the latter, some time since surrendered the control on account of the impossibility of merging the two properties.

FIGHTING AT THE POLLS.

As a result of one of the tights at the First Ward polling places yesterday, James Madden was fined 110 and costs by Justice Taylor in Police Court to-day for assaulting M. V. Hart, stenographer of Mayor Riddick, who challenged Madden's vote.

There was a plentitude of fights at the First Ward yesterday, and it is possible other arrests may follow. In every other ward the best of order prevailed.

DENNY FOR

His Probable Selection by University a Great Surprise to Mrs. Denny.

ATTITUDE UNKNOWN

Now in Texas Delivering Series of Lectures-Is Virginian and Graduate of University.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NASHVILLE, TENN., June 7 .- The news of the probable election of Rev. Collins Denny to be president of the University of Virginia was a great surpirse to Mrs. Denny and other members of the family. Mr. Denny himself is now in Georgetown, Texas, having gone there Friday to deliver a course of four lectures before the Biblical Institute. He s expected to return Sunday.

Mrs. Denny could give no idea as to what Mr. Denny's action will be in the ric at the Dallas conference and received quite a flattering vote.

A BRILLIANT MAN.

Dr. Denny is one of the most brilliant, learned and highly cultured men, and is regarded as one of the brightest in the whole Southern Church.

He is a native of Virginia, having been born at Winchester in 1854. He first attended the Shenandoah Valley Academy. He took the degree of A. B. at Princeton in 1876. B. L. at the University of Virginia in 1877. A. M. at Princeton in 1879. He practiced law for a while, but joined the Baltimore conference and was ordained a minister in 1880. He preached a number of years, and was during 1880 to 1891 chaplain of the University of Virginia.

to 1891 chaplain of the University of Virginia.

He came to Nashville in 1891, and has since that time held the chair of mental and moral philosophy at Vanderbilt.

HIS FAMILY.

Dr. Denny has an interesting family of a wife and five children, while his aged father also resides with him. He is held in the highest regard in Nashville and throughout the South, and his departure from here would be a source of deep regret to his many personal friends, as well as friends of the Vanderbilt University.

KUROPATKIN PATIENT.

He Awaits Arrival of Forces From Vladivostok Before Moving.

(Special London Times Cable to The Times-Dispatch, Copyright 1904.)

PARIS, June 8.—A St. Petersburg dis-patch quotes a general officer of the Rus-sian army as follows: "Two days ago there was a conference between the Em-peror and the chief particans of General Kuropatkin and Admiral Alexieff. The latter were active in an attempt to in-fluence the Czar to send an order to Gen-eral Kuropatkin to advance at once and give battle even at the risk of being dereated.

Fortunately the good sense of the Emperor prevailed and he contented himself with inquiring of General Kuropatkin if the situation permitted of his advancing to relieve the beleaguered stronghold, saying that he wished it could be done, but leaving it to his general to decide." General Kuropatkin replied that it was impossible at present to do anything for General Stoesel and his command. "Knowing him as I do, I am certain that the commander-in-chief would sooner have resigned than to have executed an order which might have brought disaster upon his troops."

his troops."

Replying to the observation that General Kuropatkin has an army of 200,000 men available for service against the Japanese, the officer said: "Who told you that? If you were to suppose that a portion of that army had been dispatched to Vladivostok to march down along the coast and occupy Korea; if you added that they had been instructed to establish themselves in Kuroki's rear, and that the army of which General Rennenkampt's division is the vanguard in command of General Lienevitch; if you were to say that you would not be astonished to hear soon that General Kuroki's army had been annihilated, I would say that you were not far from the truth. In any case I am certain that General Kuroki's army had been not far from the truth. In any case I am certain that General Kuropatkin will not move on any order from St. Petersburg. Id on to say he will not move but simply that he is not hampered by any orders from St. Petersburg. He is acting on his own initiative unhampered by instructions." Replying to the observation that Genethemselves in Kuroki's rear, and that the army of which General Rennenkampf's division is the vanguard in command of General Lienevitch, if you were to say that you would not be astonished to hear seon that General Kuropatkin will not move but simply that he is not hampered by any orders from St. Petersburg. I do not say he will not move but simply that he is not hampered by any orders from St. Petersburg. He is acting on his own initiative unhampered by instructions.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg states that General Kuropatkin has not one, but two armies in the field. The first is at Llao Yang, the second between Kuroki and the Pacific. This would explain Kuropatkin remaining inactive as he is witting for the second army to complete its long and difficult march from Yalu hus cutting of the Gapanese base of supplies and perions.

The fact that the Russians were endeavoring on June 4th to clear the roadstead off Port Arthur of mines indicates an intention upon their part to give battle outside the harbor upon the first favorable opportunity.

A Japanese correspondent, returning from Tallenwan, says there is a persistent rumor there that the battleship Yashima struck a mine off that port recently and was sunk. Chinese arrivals from Tallenwan are unable to confirm the story.

The government, it was authoritatively

In many cases from one to five years have elapsed and there has been no returning sign of the disease. Hundreds of cases cured since the preparation has been placed on sale show no sign at all of the previous afflication, and we fully believe they are permanent cures.
